Residents Rap Lack of Bus Service

Group Complains To City

Route Asked In Maple Lake Area

A group of Maple Lake area residents took a vigorous protest to city council last night over the lack of bus service in their community.

The discussion disclosed that the city probably will approve certain bus route changes requested by Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc., that would provide service to that section.

R. J. Beimbrech, 793 Maple street, told council that for several years residents of the Maple Lake area have petitioned the bus company for service, but they always got the "run around" and they still don't have service.

The residents asked why nothing was being done about the changes and charged that the bus company had thrown their petitions for changes in the waste basket.

Actually, the power to make changes rests with the service-safety director and not with council.

The question of route changes was first brought up two months ago when the bus company asked Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison and city council to approve certain changes, including a combination of the South Main-Reformatory runs, the North Main-Glessner runs, with certain modifications, and a re-routing of the Park avenue west line.

This latter change, which has stirred up the argument, was first requested as follows:

To run from Fourth and Main streets to Park avenue west, then to Glenwood boulevard, south to Maple street, west to Linden road, and north on Linden road to Park avenue west.

It was disclosed by Councilman Michael Mihalick that since the original request was filed Garrison, members of council and the bus company had further discussed the question, tentatively agreeing on the following Park avenue west run:

Fourth and Main streets to Park avenue west, then to Glenwood boulevard, south to Maple street, east to Westwood avenue, south to Highland avenue, west to Euclid avenue, south to Coleman road, west to Taylor road, north to Maple street, west to Linden road and north to Park avenue west.

It was this route that the Maple Lake area residents were interested in seeing put into effect.

Action on the bus route changes were stymied temporarily in October when a group of persons from the west side of the city protested that by cutting off service on Park avenue west from Linden road to the city limits, many persons were being deprived of service.

Questioned several times in the past month about what action was being taken concerning the bus route changes, Garrison said he was holding up the matter, and that inasmuch as the bus company had not pressed the issue, he was not going to act.

Last night, however, Garrison said the new route was not ready to be used because Euclid avenue was not in passable condition, adding that the company was ready to make the change when the street was repaired.

But E. W. Davis, street superintendent, when asked whether he thought Euclid avenue was in condition for bus travel said: "In my opinion Euclid avenue will stand bus travel."

Mihalick explained after the meeting that the repair of Euclid avenue had to meet the bus company's approval before the changes would be put into effect.

Curly Locks Find Favor With Youths

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Juvenile fashion fad: A permanent wave for the male forelock.

Five of the boys in high school at North Olmsted have revived a stunt of years ago by getting permanents for a front lock of hair, leaving the rest of the coiffure in its natural state.

A North Olmsted beauty operator, Hazel Hollenbach, said the high school kids weren't the only ones who wave their hair. "Two older men, a cowboy and an elevator operator, come here frequently," she said.

Marshall's Resignation Seen Likely

Decision Hinges On Recovery Speed

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Secretary of State George C. Marshall's serious kidney operation raised a possibility today that he may have to resign his cabinet post.

However, administration quarters were confident he would stay on if his recovery is fairly rapid. The operation was reported to be removal of a kidney on which two cysts had formed.

Medical authorities said such surgery ordinarily would force a man of Marshall's years to give up exacting duties. He will be 68 this month.

The secretary was reported to be "getting along fine" at Walter Reed hospital where he was operated on yesterday.

President Truman has received assurances from the former army chief of staff that he will continue as secretary of state if his health permits. But the president was said by associates to be willing to accept Marshall's resignation rather than jeopardize his health.

Administration sources believe any decision on Marshall's tenure of office may be postponed until mid-January. By then, it was said, it should be clear if his health will permit him to carry on.

Foreign policy leaders in congress expressed the opinion that Marshall should be encouraged to stay on, if possible, because of his "tremendous prestige" abroad. Some suggested that he continue to serve, even if his daily duties had to be curtailed.

However, because of the seriousness of the operation, speculation cropped up again in the capital regarding a possible successor. Heading the list was former Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson, who has made repeated trips to the White House lately in connection with his duties as vice chairman of the Hoover commission on government reorganization. He gave up his diplomatic duties soon after Marshall became secretary of state to resume his private law practice.

Filibuster Stalls U.N.

BULLETIN

PARIS — (AP) — The British said today they have private information that Jewish armed forces have invaded Trans-Jordan.

★

PARIS — (INS) — Russia resumed a bitter anti-American filibuster in the United Nations political committee today, in a last-ditch attempt to block action on Korea.

Soviet delegate Jacob Malik angrily denounced the U. S.-sponsored government in southern Korea. He said it was composed largely of "Japanese collaborators."

Malik said that the southern administration—which was chosen in free elections supervised by the U. N.—was "under U. S. military domination."

The committee is debating an American-Australian-Chinese resolution calling for recognition of the southern government, formation of a strong UN Korea commission, and eventual withdrawal of Soviet and U. S. occupation forces.

Vandals Rip Off Railing

Smash Light Bulbs On Mulberry Viaduct

Vandals last night broke off a 27-foot section of the guard rail on the southwest corner of the Mulberry street viaduct and smashed two light globes on the bridge.

E. W. Davis, street superintendent, reported that the street department received a call about 8 p. m. that several boys were pulling at the two-inch steel pipe guard rail back and forth and were throwing stones at the lamp posts.

When the street department repair crews reached the scene, the guard rail had been dislodged from the adjacent rail and from the ground.

The rail was found on the sidewalk and glass from the two street lights was scattered on the sidewalk and in the street near the curb.

ECA Ruling Fight Looms

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A major governmental fight shaped up today over the decision to stop giving American ships a 50-50 share of Marshall plan "bulk" cargoes.

"Fantastic," snapped Maritime Commissioner Grenville Mellen of the newly disclosed ruling by Economic Cooperation Administrator Paul G. Hoffman. Mellen summoned his fellow commissioners to a special session to consider the policy decision which Hoffman ordered into effect January 1.

The ECA chief said he based his action on the grounds that the use of higher-cost American shipping for such products as grain and coal is cutting into dollars meant for European recovery.

But Mellen, who only yesterday charged any such action would amount to a "sell out" of the American merchant marine, retorted: "If Mr. Hoffman is so interested in having shipping prices competitive why does he not demand that American railroads charge the same rates for hauling Marshall plan goods."

Brighten a Christmas

Two Little Girls Ask Only a Song for Yule

Last night in Mansfield three youngsters, two little blonde girls, aged five and four, and their little dark-haired brother, who is just eighteen months old, talked and laughed excitedly as they were being put to bed.

Their thoughts and conversation were concerned only with the fact that Christmas is less than three weeks away, and Santa Claus already is making plans for his annual visit to their home.

Their mother listened to the conversation and if her enthusiasm seemed a bit strained it was because she realized that while Santa might stop at their home, his pack would not contain nearly all the things her children were looking for so eagerly.

Their daddy has been hospitalized for the past six months, and a long period of convalescence is ahead. Since the father's illness the family has been living with relatives. The mother is unable to work because the children need her care, so funds for Christmas gifts are extremely limited.

Topping the list of the gifts the girls would like Santa to bring them is a record-player with a vocal recording of "Ave Maria," their favorite. Both girls are interested in singing and before their father's illness were studying with a local music teacher. However, circumstances have prevented them from continuing their lessons. Their interest in music is probably inherited from their mother who studied singing for seven years prior to her marriage.

Through the co-operation of the Salvation Army and the Mansfield News-Journal, Mansfield residents who would like to play Santa Claus to this deserving family may call Mrs. Margaret Mattox at the News-Journal office, 4251-6, daily (except Sundays) between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Other less fortunate families will be listed in the coming days. If you want to "Brighten a Christmas" call Mrs. Mattox and ask for a family whose holiday may be dreary without your kindness.

EGG PRICES DROP

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Big white eggs fell in price on the Cleveland market again today, down two cents to 69 cents a dozen.

Conference Scheduled

Latin-American Statesmen Arrive

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Two high Latin-American statesmen arrive in Washington today for a round of conferences amid disclosure that President Truman may visit Cuba early next spring.

President Carlos Prio Socarras of Cuba and Juan Attilio Bramuglia, foreign minister of Argentina will land in the capital for a series of events that are expected to mark an important step forward in Pan-American relations.

Preceding Prio's arrival in President Truman's private plane, the Independence, it was revealed that Mr. Truman has told associates he would like to visit Havana during his new term of office which begins Jan. 20.

Some persons high in the government are urging that the President make a state visit to Cuba this coming March, or even in late February, if possible.

Accompanying Prio on his visit are high-ranking government officials who are helping the newly-elected Cuban chief executive to carry out his domestic and foreign policies.

Bramuglia is coming as a guest of the state department until Saturday.

NEW YORK — (AP) — A new method of sending secret messages—by pictorial symbols instead of letters—has been patented by David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

City Acts To Acquire Land Area

Moves Against 'Phone Company

City council last night instructed City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch to begin condemnation proceedings to obtain a 60-foot right-of-way from the Mansfield Telephone company to extend East Fifth street from Snyder street to the Ashland road.

This land is needed, according to Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals, not only to relieve traffic congestion at that point, but to put a one-way street system into effect.

Plans for such a system are incorporated in a traffic recodification ordinance now being studied by council.

The Mansfield Telephone company, however, has flatly refused to sell. In September of 1947, the service-safety director was authorized to purchase the 60-foot right-of-way along the Rocky Fork.

He sent a letter to the company requesting a conference on the matter. The telephone company did not answer the letter.

EXPLAINS REFUSAL

After a second request was sent, company officials wrote:

"The property of this company was acquired for future use as a location for our plant department, company warehouse and pole yard.

"When acquired, it was a partial swamp, which since acquisition has been filled in and leveled at considerable cost."

The letter argued that the land requested for the East Fifth street extension would reduce the frontage of the lot remaining for the company and would be "destructive to our interests."

"Such being the case, we cannot acquiesce to the request of the city."

Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison recently wrote the Mansfield Telephone company asking it to reconsider its refusal to sell, but he has not received an answer.

Enterprising Thief Resells Loot to Owner

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Because he went "whole hog" a Columbus man was in police custody today being investigated for rustling hogs and selling them back to their rightful owner.

The man, described by police as about 26, broke the seal on a loaded livestock railroad car in the yard of the Producers Livestock Co-op company and hered three hogs into a secluded pen in a corner of the place.

Come morning, he took his newly-acquired herd and sold them—to the Producers Livestock Co-op company.

Monady, he did it again. This time taking five animals. Company officials, however, "smelled" something. They had detectives with them when the salesman showed up.

Probe Demanded

CIRCLEVILLE—(INS)—The Circleville city council demanded an investigation today of charges that state liquor department agents tried to shake down four private clubs for $1,800.

Chinese Escape Red Trap

NANKING—(AP)— Units of the government's hard-pressed 12th Army group were reported today to have smashed through communist encirclement in the crucial battle for Nanking.

The government military news agency said these units had made contact with other nationalist troops advancing northward from the new Hwai river defense line about 100 miles northwest of here.

There was no confirmation of the report by foreign military circles. The military news agency report had no other details.

The bulk of the 12th has been trapped nearly two weeks south west of Suhsien, rail town 45 miles south of fallen Suchow. The Army group, short on food and ammunition, is getting some supplies by air.

Meanwhile, other communist columns were reported tightening the noose on the 250,000 government troops which abandoned Suchow a week ago in an attempt to relieve the 12th Army group.

3 ARMIES TRAPPED

The former Suchow garrison, made up of three army groups, is trapped in a shrinking pocket about 50 miles southwest of Suchow.

Neutral military observers reported that elements of 12 communist columns have been identified as the encircling force. Red Gen. Chen Yi was reported moving additional columns against the pocket.

The three Nationalist army groups were described as offering stiff resistance. The Second Army group, led by German-trained Chiu Ching-Chuan—one of the Nationalist's most respected field commanders—was bearing the brunt of the Red attacks.

Clear weather intensified activity from Nanking's airfield. Fighters and bombers were shuttling between the capital and the combat areas to the northwest.

Reds Block Berlin Mail

BERLIN — (UP) — Russia has halted the exchange of mail between the eastern and western sectors of Berlin in the first step to impose even greater sanctions because of last Sunday's anti-communist elections, it was announced today.

J. H. Gayer, an American communications official disclosed that Soviet-controlled German postal officials advised him that mail traffic had been suspended Moday, the day after the elections. Previously, 600 mail bags were exchanged daily.

Reliable German sources reported top German communist leaders and soviet occupation officials were in continuous session at Soviet headquarters in Karlshorst to formulate a new communist program for Germany.

The sources said the talks were spurred by Sunday's election and that the communist delegation was headed by Walter Ulbricht who returned from Moscow last week.

Toll In Ship Blast; 3,070

SHANGHAI — (INS) — The death toll in the sinking of the Chinese refugee ship Kiangya in Shanghai harbor last Saturday was counted officially today at 3,070.

One-hundred forty bodies have been recovered and brought to Shanghai for identification, while 2,930 are still missing and presumed dead.

Officials have intimated that the explosion which sank the refugee-packed steamer in the Yangtze river was the result of sab-

103RD TRAFFIC DEATH

CINCINNATI — (INS) — Hamilton county counted its 103rd traffic fatality of the year today with the death of James P. Malone, 25, of Philadelphia. His throat was cut when he was hurled from his car after it struck an embankment.

Mystery Surrounds Two Men

Missing Pair Stymie Probe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional spy hunters failed today to locate two men accused of supplying secret government papers to communist agents.

The names of these two mystery men have not been disclosed, but the House Committee on Un-American Activities has made known it is looking for them.

Committee members had hoped to question them behind closed doors this morning.

But Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) told reporters the committee has been unable to serve subpoenas.

"We wish we knew where they are," he said.

As the spy inquiry supplies a spectacular finale for the nearly extinct 80th Congress, there were other late developments:

1. A New York grand jury continued its separate espionage investigation with U. S. District Attorney John F. McGohey saying it is closer than ever "to a final conclusion."

FBI PROMISES AID

2. The FBI and state department promised help to the house committee inquiry. John E. Peurifoy, assistant secretary of state, told reporters security regulations have been tightened and "I would rather think" there can be no more leaks of official secrets.

3. The committee made new attempts to locate a typewriter on which it thinks some state department documents were copied.

4. It tried to find out where the copies were microfilmed.

5. The committee held the evening open for a possible night session with Chambers, in case the grand jury releases him.

Nixon said the three men newly named by Chambers as part of a transmission line that fed him confidential government papers all are civilians and he thinks all now are off the federal payroll.

He said one used to be in the state department. Another committee member said a second worked for the Bureau of Standards. That left number three unaccounted for, and nobody would talk about him.

The new names, Nixon said, are in addition to that of Alger Hiss, former high state department official who now heads the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The committee already has released part of the testimony in which Chambers accused Hiss of supplying secret state department documents to him in 1937 and 1938 for relay to a Russian agent.

The testimony was taken in preliminaries to the trial of a $75,000 libel suit Hiss has brought against Chambers in Balitmore.

Hiss has denied the charges in a statement.

NEW YORK — (INS)—Donald Hiss, brother of former state department worker Alger Hiss, was summoned today as a surprise witness before the spy-probing New York federal grand jury.

Donald Hiss, like his brother, also has worked in the state department, and for a time was employed in the federal labor department.

Snow Due Tomorrow

Mansfield may be in for snow before the week is out, if the weatherman doesn't miss his mark.

Last night the mercury dropped to 22, lowest point of the season in Mansfield.

The snow forecast is based on a storm center developing in Colorado and beginning to move northeast. Forecaster, Milton Davis at Cleveland said Ohio will begin to feel the effects of the storm area by late tonight or early tomorrow.

If temperatures should remain low, the entire state may be covered by a blanket of snow tomorrow, he said.

From the morning low of 22, temperatures climbed only to 27 at noon today in Mansfield. Coldest spot in the nation today was Bismarck, N. D. with six below zero.

CHICAGO — (UP) — Left-wing leaders were conspicuous by their absence today at the biennial convention of the CIO Transport Workers' union. The right-wing was in full power and set about revising the 100,000-member union's policy to jibe with its views.

Renew Yule Tradition

Seniors Plan Second Community Carol Sing

Mansfield will go Christmas caroling again.

Members of the 1949 graduating class at Senior high school will renew the tradition begun by the class of '48 which brought 5,000 Mansfielders to Central park for a community songfest last Christmas.

This year, on Sunday evening, Dec. 19, at 9 o'clock, groups of carolers will start from all parts of the city, singing their way to Central park. They will be joined on the way by hundreds of other singers.

Richard Van Voorhis, general chairman, announced the plans today. He said, "At the park a half hour program of old familiar Christmas tunes will be sung under the direction of Richards Butts, Mansfield senior orchestra leader."

Plans for the second annual Christmas sing have been under way since completion of the annual "Help Hunt Halloween" celebration in which seniors took a prominent part. It will be one of three community events which seniors plan to hold during the year. The third will be the annual sunrise service at Easter.

Following closely the program as set up last year by 1949 graduating class members when Miss Jan Ann Stoneburner acted as general chairman, youth groups of the city's churches and schools will be asked to join in the marching and singing caravan.

In addition to VanVoorhis and Butts, other seniors who will take over different phases of the program include: Jean Robinson, Harry Osbun, Martha Shiplet, Sally Todd, Jean Maurer, Don Priess, Johnny Corcoran, Pat Jackson, Jean Hathaway and Larry Inscore, who will act as "route" leaders; Diane Zehrbach, chairman, Eugene Freiheit, Betty LaYacona, Pat Robnolt and Richard Elliot, publicity; Richard Rohleder and Charles Brown, police committee; Shirley Reip, chairman, David Oswalt, Minerva Scott, John Schneider, Emily Echinger, Mary Biddle, Gary Haley, Leora Markley, Paul Schopp and Dean Schoenman, contact committee; Jean Maurer, lanterns; Tom Swisher, song books, and VanVoorhis, speakers.

Daniels Wishes His Death Date In Pen Could Be Stepped Up

COLUMBUS—(UP)—The waiting is beginning to tell on Robert Murl Daniels, who last summer made crime headlines on a national scale.

Daniels, still as calm as he was when his crime career came to a sudden end, is waiting for a Jan. 3 date with Ohio penitentiary electric chair. On that day, unless a stay of execution is granted, Daniels will pay for his crimes.

But waiting for death is not easy. Visitors say Daniels wishes his death date could be stepped up.

"The quicker the better," he has told visitors. "I'm ready now."

Sallow and haggard from his months behind bars, Daniels looks much different now than he did on that blistering day in July when he boasted of his crimes from the steps of the Van Wert county courthouse.

He was jaunty and dapper then, a few hours after his capture. He reveled in the crowds, the curiosity seekers, and many who questioned him.

His partner, John C. West, lay dead in a morgue. Their crimes had come to an end at a roadblock.

But Daniels boasted of his part in the crime spree that brought sudden death to six persons.

WANTED HIS 'SHARE'

"I want credit for my share," he told newsmen.

He was tried for his part in the killing of John Niebel, superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory farm, his wife, Nolana, and their daughter, Phyllis. Daniels and West had murdered three other persons in their two-week spree, but the state was content to try Daniels only for the three Niebel murders.

He was found guilty and sentenced to die Jan. 3.

Warden Ralph W. Alvis said Daniels has not made any special requests while at Ohio penitentiary.

"I'd say he is holding up well," the warden said.

Daniels, however, is not allowed to take exercise in the prison courtyard, a privilege afforded other death row prisoners.

"He is confined for disciplinary reasons," Alvis explained. "It's for something he said. Other than that statement I will not elaborate."

RECEIVES VISITORS

The young killer, a parolee from the Mansfield reformatory, spends his time reading, talking with other prisoners and receiving visitors.

"As far as we are concerned he is just another prisoner here and will be treated as such," the warden said. He is adamant in his refusal to allow newspapermen to visit the much-publicized killer. The warden will tell about Daniels and his activities but will not grant a pass to see him.

"I want no more publicity on him and that's that," Alvis said.

The Rev. Arthur W. Witherspoon of the Apostolic Gospel church, who visits Daniels often, said the young killer responds like the average person on religious matters.

"He knows he is facing death and wants to make the best of it," he said. "His thinking is clear and he is inquisitive about life after death. When I look at him it is difficult for me to place him in criminal surroundings."

'Note to Garcia' In Modern Style

LOUISVILLE, Ky. —(UP)— Employes of the Pennsylvania railroad stopped the man before he got very far in the big locomotive he had swiped.

Today, William T. Reed explained why he had tried to swipe the engine. "I needed it," he said, "to carry a message from General MacArthur to President Roosevelt."

General MacArthur is in Tokyo. President Roosevelt is dead. And Reed is in jail, charged with tampering with a locomotive.

Rent Boost Rejected

WASHINGTON, — (AP) — A blanket 15 per cent increase in rent ceilings has been suggested to top administration officials and turned down, it was learned today.

An official in a position to know, but who was asked not to be quoted by name, said the idea came up last week at a meeting of government officials but was rejected by John R. Steelman, assistant to the president.

Tighe Woods, the housing expeditor, also was reported to be opposed.

This informant did not say who sponsored the suggestion.

However, Dr. Edwin C. Nourse, chairman of the president's council of economic advisers, told a reporter that published reports that the proposal came from an economist on the council's staff were "completely scrambled.

Cleveland Woman Chosen to Head Ohio Senate Majority

Democrats Pick New Officials

Cantwell Named House Speaker

COLUMBUS —(AP)—Ohio's senate will have its first woman majority leader in the session starting Jan. 3. And the House of Representatives will have a speaker who now heads the minority there.

This was decided at senate and House caucuses of Democratic members who won control of the 98th General Assembly from Republicans in November elections.

Senate Democrats in a closed meeting yesterday picked Miss Margaret A. Mahoney (pronounced Mae-o-nee, with the accent on Mae), Cleveland attorney, as president pro tem. That's the official title for majority floor leader.

She will be the first woman ever to hold that honor in the Ohio senate. She studied law nights to become an attorney, served two terms in the House (1939-42) and has been a Senator since 1943. As majority leader, she will be chairman of the all-important senate rules committee.

The new house speaker will be John F. Cantwell, 62, of Youngstown, present minority floor leader of that body. He will be starting his fifth consecutive term in the House.

Indications were that the administration of Gov.-Elect Frank J. Lausche took an active interest in caucus selections.

The senate caucus was delayed an hour while leaders conferred with Eugene Hanhart of Dover, Lausche's Democratic state chairman.

Hear Story Of Patrol

An insight into the functions of the state highway patrol was given the Rotary club at its luncheon meeting yesterday by Patrolman S. W. Lucas.

The patrol was started in 1933, Lucas told the club, and its present strength is now 300 men, having gorwn from an original strength of 60 men. Lucas said personnel is hand-picked and put through stiff physical examinations and training courses.

He said one of the newer courses teaches patrolmen how to cope with communists and communist propaganda. The patrolmen learn marksmanship, state laws, radio, and accident investigation, he related.

Lucas declared it costs the state $1,500 to put a man through the state highway patrol school. On graduation each man receives $500 worth of equipment.

After describing the jurisdiction of the highway patrol, which he said included all state-owned lands, Lucas closed by citing figures to show peacetime traffic accidents take a heavier toll of victims each year than battlefields.

The speaker was introduced by program chairman William E Flynn.

'Y' Names Boys' Work Secretary

Portsmouth Man Named to Post

The YMCA staff will be expanded by the addition of a boys' work secretary beginning Jan. 3.

Robert W. Schmidt, now boys' work secretary in Portsmouth, O., has been named to the position by A. B. Grafton, chairman of personnel, Irl L. Fisher, president of the YMCA board of trustees announced today.

The addition of the new staff member brings the number of full-time professional staff workers to four.

Elated at what he called a great step forward for the "Y", Maurice Taylor, YMCA general secretary said:

"I feel that we are a year ahead in our program of expansion. The work is progressing at a faster rate than I had anticipated when I came here 10 months ago. I am gratified at the response of Mansfielders and the editorial comment on our work here."

OTTERBEIN GRADUATE

Schmidt, 27, has been engaged in work with boys for nearly three years. He received his A. B. from Otterbein college with a major in business administration and a minor in psychology. He took additional courses at Wittenberg college.

The new secretary is married and has one daughter The YMCA is making an attempt to find housing for its new staffer and his family.

Schmidt is reputedly one of the ablest men in his type of work in the state, Taylor said. He will have about 700 boys to work with when he takes over his new job here.

The need for a full time man to handle the "Y" boys' program has been pressing for a long time, Taylor declared. The decision to add a new member to the staff was made recently when the plans for the expansion program were laid

Negligent Driver Held

A Butler motorist who had not paid his $500 fine and costs in Mt. Vernon on conviction of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, was apprehended yesterday by sheriff's deputies on an execution warrant.

He is Richard L. Zeigler, aged 29, who was turned over to Mt. Vernon police Deputies said Zeigler had been released on promise to pay the fine, but had not done so and a warrant was sent for his apprehension.

Mt Vernon police said that since the fine for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol was made $500 at the beginning of this year there have been 32 arrests so far on the charge compared to 67 for the year before

Lecturer Sees Religion As Peace Key

Approximately 300 persons heard a lecture on "Christian Science. The Way of Fredom" last night in the John Simpson auditorium. The lecturer was Arthur Perrow, C S, of Chicago.

He said in part:

"If men really understood God instead of having mere belief in some kind of supreme being, the resultant behavior would dispel all the confusion and bewilderment of the hour. To know and demonstrate the fact that God is the one infinite divine intelligence would silence the human and mesmeric tendencies toward strife, hatred, wars, and other discords.

"The world today is far from being unified ,in its concept of Christ Jesus, the great master Christian—his purpose, his teachings and their usefulness. Jesus was a human whose name was similar to many other men of his day, but the Christ was and is the truth which Jesus taught and demonstrated and which he referred to when he said, "Before Abraham was, I am" (John 8:58).

"A study of Jesus' words and works in the light of Christian Science makes logical and demonstrable the great teachings Jesus left for his followers. His instructions are clear, unmistakable, and positive, and all based on his understanding of God and His law of harmony, available to all."

Galion Tiff On Power Legal Maze

Technicalities Get Spotlight

GALION — Legal technicalities are being aired in the city's electric power problem. Last night Mayor H. H Hartmann presented council with a referendum petition signed by more than 10 per cent of the voters and read sections of the state law pertaining to adoption of a franchise ordinance.

Council also received a formal communication from the Ohio Public Service company accepting the franchise passed Nov. 4. The referendum asks a vote be taken on the franchise ordinance passed recently over the mayor's veto. The ordinance would permit OPS to sell electric power to the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing company and to the Central Ohio Steel Products company.

It also was learned yesterday a motion to dismiss a temporary injunction against the OPS and the city was filed in Crawford county common pleas court by legal counsel for the power company. The motion for dismissal contends the referendum petition was not filed within the legal period after passage. It also attacks the injunction on the grounds the city is not acquiring a public utility but only granting an easement to the OPS

The injunction case is scheduled for hearing in Bucyrus before Judge C. U. Ahl on Dec. 27.

Songs and skits were included in the Gay Nineties program. Some of the costumes were made by the girls assisted by the troop committee and the leader, Miss Dorothy Bacquet. Other costumes were loaned by Mrs. Daniel Henney, Mrs. E. W. Dann, and Mrs. T. G. Bigler.

Members of the troop are Dolores Bacquet, Mary Lou Barret, Pauline Benich, Dorothy Eyerly, Joyce Freiheit, Virginia Hullinger, Kay McQuillan, Mildred Snyder, Nancy Swigart, Edith Wagenhals, Carol Wallace, Margaret Welsh, and Jeanne White.

Milk Price Floor Asked

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Retail prices of milk in Cleveland probably will not be influenced by any action on the price floor, says J. Robert Hanson, department of agriculture economist.

He attended a hearing yesterday on a producers' request to raise the price floor for 3 5 per cent butterfat milk to $5.25 a hundredweight. About 8,500 farmers ship milk to the Cleveland area.

Jack W. Baine, who presided over the hearing, said a decision on the price flood would be made by the secretary of agriculture by Jan. 1. Hanson said there is precedent for the Cleveland producer action.

The total area of the United States exceeds 3,000,000 square miles.

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1947

Some contend that the bigger a city is, the less efficient it becomes—which at least provides an interesting subject for discussion.

Children should be made to understand that it is only the "helpers" of Santa Claus they are seeing around town these days—that Santa himself is still busily engaged at his North Pole workshop.

No Major Tax Changes Likely

WHILE taxation will be among the subjects up for consideration by the new Congress early next year, opinion in Washington is that there will probably be no major tax legislation during the 1949 session.

President Truman is expected to recommend an excess profits tax on corporations to raise about three billion dollars a year, but it is conceded that this proposal will have no chance of passage.

An alternative proposal may take the form of a straight increase in the corporation normal tax and some upping of levies on higher incomes.

Indications are, however, that no alternative will be adopted unless the budget situation shows a definite deficit in the next fiscal year. There will be much talk about the size of the budget and the need for reducing the huge public debt.

Names Are Sometimes Misleading

THE BRITISH Labor party is by no means exclusively a party of labor. This conclusion is drawn by R. B. McCallum, an English professor, who has just published a study of the British election of 1945, which put Churchill and his party out and Labor in.

Surveying the occupations of the members of parliament, he finds, it is true, that 155 workingmen are among the Labor representatives, and none among the Conservatives. On the other hand Labor also has far more teachers and physicians. And while the Conservatives lead in the number of business men in parliament, Labor has two thirds as many. The only groups in which the Conservatives have a strong lead are ex-army officers and persons living on their income but without special occupation. Even in these groups Labor is not without representation.

Probably the name has misled Americans, who forget that party names are often more traditional than accurately descriptive. One of the most important French parties is the Radical Socialist, whose members are neither radical nor socialist, but decidedly conservative.

'Rain-Making' Still Up To Nature

THE COMPLAINT that "nobody does anything about the weather," immortalized by Mark Twain, continues to be justified. It is now apparent that nobody is as yet able to do anythinge to change it.

For two years experiments have been carried on by the Air Force to determine whether or not rainfall could be artificially caused. It has been working with the scheme of dropping pellets of dry ice into a rain cloud to start the formation of raindrops, a process called "seeding." Some localized showers are thought to have been caused by this process. But the Air Force has abandoned the project because "the experiments proved that seeding of clouds has not caused rain in amounts sufficient to be of economic significance."

Perhaps it is just as well. Control of rainfall would be of such importance in different ways to so many people that its use might bring about confusion and controversy to a marked degree. Penetration of the secrets of the universe occasionally tends to elaborate rather than to simplify man's problems.

Social Security For Ex-Presidents

AN EX-PRESIDENT should receive a pension, says Congressman Donald L. O'Toole of New York, who plans to introduce a bill providing for an annual payment of $37,500. He believes that the country's dignity demands that a former chief executive should be free from want, and able to do as he pleases.

Some presidents, like Hoover and Franklin Roosevelt, were well-to-do. Others had to figure closely. Jefferson became so impoverished that Congress had to buy his private library as a measure of relief.

Such a situation is less likely to occur today. Coolidge demonstrated that a former president can make a very good living by writing, and many other offers await any man whose name is so well known. A pension, however, would enable an ex-president to devote his time to public work if he were so inclined.

Her Idea Spread Around World

THE LATE Miss Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia founded Mother's Day by writing to governors, senators and congressmen, editors and presidents. Final victory came in 1914 when President Wilson signed a congressional resolution setting aside the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day.

Remembering that other people besides Americans had mothers, she started to send letters abroad. Now it has been estimated that 43 nations observe Mother's Day.

Try To Avoid 'Baby Talk,' Please

THE LITTLE BOY obviously was just learning to say words, and it also was clear that he was examining a toy train at close range for the first time. Under his mother's coaching, with a great concentration of effort he produced a distinct pronunciation of the word "train".

All the while a fond grand-parent, standing by, was placidly assuring him that it was a "choo-choo" on a "twack".

One of the trials of the modern mother's life is the baby talk which well-meaning oldsters insistently push at the youngster to whom she is trying to teach English.

The Nation Today

The Voices of History

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—If you were lucky enough to be around when the words were spoken, and had a recording machine handy, what voices of history would you want to put on wax for the future?

There was no radio around to pick up the blast of Joshua's seven horns at Jericho—nor Socrates' last conversation with his friends . . . nor Pericles talking to the Athenians . . . nor Lincoln giving his Gettysburg address.

But Columbia Records has just come out with an album called "I Can Hear It Now"—that covers what the radio picked up in the 13 years from 1932 to 1945. The five records take 45 minutes to play.

The first one begins with a voice saying "These are the sounds of days that are past . . ."

The last record ends with the same voice saying ". . . or do we walk through midnight toward the dawn without knowing it?"

The voice is that of Edward R. Murrow. He cuts in from time to time to pull the pieces together.

But all the other voices are those of the men who helped make history between the depths of the great depression and the end of World War II, or had something to say about it.

The first voice after Murrow's is Will Rogers', trying in 1932 to cheer America a bit with "We claim the distinction of being the only nation in the history of the world that went to the poorhouse in an automobile."

Next comes Franklin D. Roosevelt at his first inaugural in 1933, with "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself . . ."

* * *

Unlimited Material.

A LOT of people and a lot of events are crowded into the five records:

Senator Huey P. Long putting in a plug for his share-the-wealth plan; the Duke of Windsor abdicating for "the woman I love"; Fiorello H. LaGuardia threatening to run on a laundry ticket to beat a bunch of "political bums"; Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, comfortable about his sell-out of Czechoslovakia at Munich; Adolf Hitler and Mussolini, screaming their people into frenzy for war; Winston Churchill; Wendell Willkie; Thomas E. Dewey; John L. Lewis; the news of Pearl Harbor; General Eisenhower announcing D-Day; President Roosevelt's death; President Truman; a chaplain praying for civilization and the safety of the superfortress Enola Gay before it set out from Tinian Island with the first atomic bomb dropped on mankind; and the Japanese surrender.

This is not a full list of the events and voices on the records but together they make a stirring story.

Murrow worked with Fred W. Friendly in putting the album together. They say they worked for two years and have so much material left over they may put out more albums, on D-Day, the New Deal, Munich.

This Columbia album will be a priceless collection for the future, as anything of its kind would be.

But the only ones who speak in it are the big-name people. What's missing is the nobodies, the everyday people.

They're the ones the well-known people are really talking about, they're the ones most deeply involved in all the album says.

They're the ones who lived through the depression, raised children, hunted jobs, got sick at the thought of war, then fought the war.

Some place there must be some record in their own voices of what they thought, felt and wanted—brief interviews in a studio, comment picked up by sidewalkradios, forum discussions.

If there is, it might help the millions of nobodies in the future get a little strength from the strength of the nobodies of the past.

What Will Congress Do?

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — The forthcoming 81st Congress will be under closer scrutiny by the public than any other in a long time, if ever, it is becoming manifest already a month ahead of its meeting.

This is due primarily, of course, to President Truman who, for purposes of the job he did during the campaign on Congress, might be referred to as "Professor Truman." For he went beyond his political role as a candidate, in which he denounced the last Congress—the Republican 80th—for purposes of getting elected, and supplemented this with a clear exposition of the processes of Congress to show how the will of the people is flouted by maneuvers and procedures which the public previously had not properly appreciated.

It was one of the most effective educational jobs ever done in this country in the brief space of a few weeks.

This was apparent in the election result, itself, in the first instance. But how really successful it was, how he stirred up the people to try to find out how things happen in Congress, has been proved to this reporter by mail from citizens all over the country since the election.

They reveal a very healthy curiosity and interest and urge insistently that something be done to make Congress more responsive to the public at large.

An underlying and gnawing fear expressed is that in some way the election may be "stolen" or nullified by devious tricks and devices employed in Congress after it gets before it the social welfare and civil rights program pledged by the President.

* * *

Paying More Attention.

THE PUBLIC has become aware of dodges, subterfuges and bottlenecks that previously were of concern largely to students of the technical procedures of Congress.

The Senate filibuster, which occasionally provided amusing or disgusting reading in the newspapers depicting a bunch of politicians talking endlessly about anything under the sun—and often nothing—is no longer funny or trivial to many people.

It has taken on serious significance now with the renewed drive for a civil rights program and the realization expressed in letters that unless something is done to curb these talkathons nothing will be done about that program.

People are learning, too, about that privileged oligarchy, the House rules committee, and how by arrogating legislative powers to itself, it has killed off legislation by tucking it away in a pigeonhole, including the Housing Bill of the last Congress. They are finding out how a very few men have become very powerful, and with no by-your-leave from the voters.

Above all, they are getting very curious about the lobbies that President Truman singled out in his campaign and hope they'll be investigated, as he has recommended.

Emphasis on big business lobbies has provoked counter-agitation for investigation also of farm and labor lobbies.

President Truman added to his own job and that of his party by his stress on Congress. For the public will be watching very carefully and will hold him and his party responsible if his program is sidetracked or bottled up, and this enhances the need for him and his party leaders to get through necessary reforms to make Congress a more democratic body reflecting more accurately the desires of the people.

It would be very healthy, too, if this present curiosity would capitalize itself by study in schools and colleges and by groups of all sorts, men and women, so that public pressure would be brought to bear on Congress.

This is, after all, a job for the people themselves.

Royall Suggests U. S. Foreign Legion

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Army is toying with the idea of organizing an American Foreign Legion in Western Europe — composed of refugee Europeans equipped with American arms and taking their orders from the U. S. Army.

This was revealed by Secretary of the Army Kenneth Royall to a group of congressmen, just back from Europe.

The congressmen reported that several young men in Western Europe — particularly refugee Poles—had approached them about joining the American Army and had declared they would rather serve the United States than their own governments.

Royall countered with the idea of taking these men not into the U. S. Army proper, but into an American Foreign Legion.

The congressmen also suggested to Royall that he could improve American troop morale overseas by paying GI's in dollars rather than foreign currency. The GI's are getting clipped, the congressmen said, because their pay is worth only a fraction on the black market of what they get at the official exchange rate.

* * *

Steel Argument.

A HOT backstage feud in going on between the commerce and interior departments over steel controls.

The commerce department, which leans toward business, believes that voluntary controls are adequate, that the steel industry can be trusted to ration out steel where it is needed.

It takes this view despite the fact that the steel industry recently refused steel to the government itself for the Oak Ridge atomic plant.

The interior department on the other hand argues that even mandatory controls arent' far-reaching enough, that the government must go still further and force the steel industry to expand production.

Both sides argued their case face-to-face recently before budget director James Webb. No decision was reached.

* * *

Insurance Probe.

IN ADDITION to Congressman Cellar's demand for a probe of insurance companies, Wisconsin's Sen. Joe McCarthy, an ex-Marine, is getting even more vigorous in his campaign against insurance companies for not giving better protection to widows and orphans of servicemen.

All insurance companies write special war-casualty exemptions into their policies regarding servicemen, but McCarthy has become especially indignant at Acacia Mutual as a result of correspondence over Mrs. Robert Fraser, widow of a Marine pilot.

Director Harry Blake, Washington, D. C., scribbled on the bottom of McCarthy's letter: "This letter does not deserve an answer. It should be thrown into a wastebasket. I have known the president of Acacia for over 50 years. Have been on the board of directors for twenty years and served on the executive committee for many years. I have nothing but contempt for a cheap politician who will stoop to using his high position in the public service in such a vindictive way as you."

Replied Homer Holt of New York City, another director: "I must say that I am both surprised and disappointed to receive from you such an inexcusable letter as that which you addressed to me on United States Senate stationery . . . and mailed to me under your franking privilege as a United States Senator."

Another director, James Colliflower of Washington, suggested that McCarthy pay for widow Fraser's lawsuit if he were so concerned about the case.

* * *

McCarthy Fires Back.

BURNT UP, the senator dictated a final, abrupt letter to Acacia directors.

"While several of your members indicate their surprise that a senator can take time off to interest himself in what they apparently feel to be an unimportant matter," wrote McCarthy, "I am sure that you . . . will realize that there is nothing remarkable or unusual in wanting to be of service to the families of those with whom we served . . .

"While I knew Major Fraser well when we were both serving in the Marine corps, his widow and children are not constituents of mine and I do not represent them professionally. I am interested in this case primarily because to me it represents a typical example of the attitude on the part of your company toward the families of deceased servicemen who were policy holders of yours."

* * *

Merry-Go-Round.

THE SECRET device revealed on the microfilms of ex-spy Whittaker Chambers is a now-obsolete aircraft communication instrument . . . Talking to visiting congressmen, Paul Ramadier of France remarked: "The heart of every Frenchman is part American." . . . Russian diplomats indicate that Russia will soon raise one corner of the iron curtain and permit travel to Russia through the Soviet bureau "Intourist," which has been closed down for years. If so, it's almost revolutionary. Reports from American military observers in Berlin disclose no further signs that Russia is reinforcing its troops in Berlin, even though Soviet officials are now attempting to complete domination of the city.

Assignment: America

Odd Ways In Yucatan

By KENNETH L. DIXON

MERIDA, Yucatan, Mexico — Always, when visiting a foreign spot, the tendency in making advance preparation is to study up on the important geographic and historic aspects of the place.

But, when you actually arrive, it's the little odds and ends of local life that impress you most deeply and either entice you back or make you swear to stay away.

It is that way, I find, with Yucatan.

Horns honk all through the day and most of the night in Merida, capital of this Mexican state. You notice them immediately, and at first you want to protest angrily against the din. But after a while they seem to become a part of the atmosphere and you can go to bed early, when the noise still is at full blast, and not be disturbed.

They do not honk because of any vagary of Latin temperament, but because of the law. The streets of Merida, despite its more than a hundred thousand population, are narrow, and the intersections are almost all blind, with buildings blocking the view to the right and the left as you approach each corner.

Thus, to avoid accidents on a grand scale, the city long ago passed an ordinance. Every time you approach an intersection, you must honk your horn. It is the law.

Of course, it is possible that an approaching vehicle from either side might sound off simultaneously, so that neither of you would hear the other and hence crash, but it is unlikely—or at least, so they say in Merida.

Astually, the tempo of traffic is not at all rapid, and drivers who observe only a minimum amount of caution could probably live out their life span with nothing worse than a dented fender from time to time. But the horns blast on—far into the night.

* * *

Sensible Street Marking.

ANOTHER thing you notice about Merida is the street-marking system. It is perhaps the most simple of any city in the world. Streets running north and south are even numbered, with 60th street as the central point for numerical addresses.

Streets running east to west are odd numbered with 61st street serving as the central point. To establish a meeting place, you merely designate the corner of—for instance — 67th and 54th streets. Always the corners must consist of one even and one odd numbered street. Nothing to it.

In the old day, or prior to setting up the numerical system in 1895, the streets carried various names, such as "toro" (bull) street, "cato" (cat) street, "pina" (pineapple), "la vieja" (the old woman), "el elefante" (the elephant) and countless others.

As a courtesy to those who had skipped school before learning to read, paintings of the figures representing the street names were placed on the corner buildings. Some of them remain there today, and there are old-timers about town who still stubbornly insist on meeting friends on "El Elefante," rather than 65th street.

* * *

Emphasize Cleanliness.

THERE are other things which stick in your mind about Merida and Yucatan after the wealth of so-called important information fades away.

There is no surface water in the state, yet its people are reputed to be the cleanest of all Mexico and most Latin America, even though they must bring all water up from underground.

If you're abroad in Merida after 11 o'clock at night, you must share the streets with a corps of more than 500 men who are busy from then until dawn, washing the gutters and cleaning the pavements.

Speaking of water, one of the first things you notice about Yucatan are its windmills. With only undergound rivers and other subterranean bodies of water to tap, windmills become a necessity. There are thousands and thousands of them, and nowadays they often use them for electrical power as well as water pumping.

One of the other things which slowly dawns on you after being here a while is that Yucatan is almost a foreign land in itself. Technically, it is a part of Mexico, of course, yet it is completely cut off from the rest of the country by land.

Roads reaching out from the northeasterly pointing peninsula run into the dead ends of still unpenetrated jungle. Only by sea and air is it connected with the rest of Mexico and the world.

Two thousand years ago, that isolation bred the magnificant Mayan culture which still remains a puzzle to archeologists and historians.

Among other things, it perfected a calendar that was more accurate than the one we use today. Yet only in Yucatan—of all the Americas—did that culture thrive.

Speaking of Your Health

Don't Neglect Diabetes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IT IS an encouraging fact that diabetics today can look forward to long life and good health. This is not to say that they can safely neglect their disease. Far from it, for the management of diabetes is a complicated problem but it is one which can be successfully solved by care on the part of the physician and cooperation on the part of the patient.

Diabetes results when the pancreas fails to secrete enough insulin to enable the body to use sugars properly. The reasons behind this failure are not known, though both overweight and heredity seem to play a part in bringing it on.

Main Treatment.

The main treatment of this disease is by means of diet, together with injections of insulin when required. The object is to keep the amount of sugar in the blood at a normal level and to avoid the reactions which ultimately result in the dread complications of diabetes, such as high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, and bleeding into the eye.

Naturally, diet planning for the diabetic is an individual problem and must be worked out carefully for each patient. However, there are certain general considerations which can be used as a guide.

The number of calories or heat units included in the diet will be determined by the patient's weight, and in this regard the doctor will always keep in mind that it is better for the diabetic to be somewhat underweight than overweight.

Sugar or sugar-containing foods should be avoided, since, when they are used, there is a rise in the amount of sugar in the blood. In children, desserts or soft drinks may, on occasion, be substituted for some starchy foods, in the diet. This is done for psychological reasons.

Checking Necessary.

It is not difficult to make a diagnosis of diabetes. It causes such symptoms as loss of weight and strength, severe itching of the body, increased appetite and thirst, and the presence of sugar in the urine. Chemical examination to determine the amount of sugar in the blood is important.

Diabetes is not a static disease. The state of the patient may change from month to month and from year to year. Thus, he requires constant checking and supervising if the dangers of the disease are to be avoided and normal health maintained.

The great thing is that with competent medical guidance both these things can be accomplished so that diabetics today can not only live to a ripe old age, but can have a life free of invalidism.

Suburban Mail Service Improved

Carrier Routes To Be Extended

Residents of Freedom Heights allotment will begin getting improved mail service Jan. 16, Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford said today.

Residents of Reiser driver, Mayflower avenue, Timber road, and Unity drive, all of which are included in Rural Route 2, will get carrier service at boxes in front of their homes beginning Jan. 16.

Residents of that area now have their mail boxes on Ashland road.

The 29 families affected by the change have been given directions for moving their boxes, Ford said.

Ford said a change in service to residents of North Smith avenue, Ridge road, Labor road, and Reed road, all in Rural Route 4, has been recommended to the Post Office department in Washington, D. C.

A similar change has been recommended for those living on part of Little Washington road and part of the Little Washington Hastings road, on Rural Route 5, he said.

The recommendations are now being processed by the department in Washington and as soon as the required approval is obtained by the post office here, patrons will be notified, Ford said.

Ford to Sing In 'Messiah'

Bentley Ford, member of the composing room staff of The News-Journal, will be baritone soloist Dec. 19 at the presentation of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" in Lynchburg, Va.

Mrs. Sally C. Ford, mother of the singer, will hear her son for the first time in a major performance at presentation in Lynchburg, which is her home. Although Ford has sung in concert in many parts of the world, his mother previously has heard him only as a church soloist. He has appeared with the Mansfield Mastersingers.

Ford's home is in Bucyrus.

Cites Million-Dollar Loss at Fremont

Chief Urges Check on Fire Hazards

Pointing to yesterday's $1,000,000 Fremont fire as an object lesson, Fire Chief L. J. Steele today warned all merchants and home owners to be on guard against fire.

"Mansfield is not immune to such a blaze," the chief said. He warned all merchants to be sure there is no defective wiring in the building and that inflammable goods are properly stored.

We had a narrow escape last month when an iron was left plugged in at a retail establishment all night. We were lucky that nothing more than the ironing board caught fire," Chief Steele said.

The fire department's report for November showed that fire caused property damage totaling $52,350. Of that, $50,000 was accounted for by the blaze that hit the Martin Steel Products company.

Last month's figures are much higher than October when property damage totaled $3,149. In November, 1947, the property damage totaled mores than $200,000 due to the blaze that destroyed the bus garage of Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc.

The report showed that 47 alarms were turned in, six of which were false. The department laid 5,950 feet of hose, traveled 188 miles, worked 61½ department hours, and made 10 runs outside the city.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, December 9
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

THE auguries are for the sudden precipitation of a difficult and disintegrating situation which could be aggravated and made more devastating by rash, erratic or impulsive emotions or feelings. With calm, rational and regulated conduct, it is probable that some sort of lead, "hunch" or intuition could solve a complex problem. Giving heed to the "still small voice" within could negative a peculiar experience.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of singular experiences, strange adventures, or some sort of radical or uprooting change, sudden and possibly devastating. This abrupt event may incite the feelings or emotions to erratic or unfortunate expression, which might aggravate an already critical or curious situation. With a regulated, well-organized and planned mode of action, the stress might be averted. By use of a resourceful mind, an inspiration or intuition or form of inner guidance, also calmness and poise, could open doors.

A child born on this day may be disposed to strange drives or erratic emotions, although its inner urges may overrule curious impulses.

New Drugs Hailed As Dooming Typhoid

NEW YORK—(INS)—A noted scientist today reported the discovery of three new drugs which may cure undulant fever and eliminate typhoid fever entirely from the United States.

Dr. Perron H. Long, of Johns Hopkins school of medicine, said that the drugs probably will be in production in a year or two and will result in a considerable drop in the American death rate.

In a report to the American Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association, Long named the drugs as chloromycetin, aureomycin and polymyxin.

Dr. Long, one of the first American scientists to develop use of Sulfa and Penicillin, said that chloromycetin has proved to be a quick cure for scrub typhus, on of the worse epedemic diseases.

He reported that the startling thing about chloromycetin and aureomycin seems to be the positive cure for all ricketissial diseases. These include tick bite fever, scrub typhus, typhoid fever, Q fever, emdemic typhoid fever and brill's disease.

Auremycin has been shown to be an excellent treatment for virus pneumonia, a scourge that plagued doctors throughout the country.

Dr Long reported that some of the vast possibilities of chloromycetin and auromycin are:

1 They may eliminate typhoid fever entirely from this country.

2. Cut down the death rate of ricketissial diseases.

3 One may turn out to be a cure for undulant fever from which an estimated 75,000 persons are suffering in the United States.

Chloromycetin and aureomycin are mold products. The first was discovered from mold found in Venezuela while the second was found accidentally in a case of laboratory contamination in New York state.

Iowa Leading Europe's Aid

DAYTON—(AP)—Iowa probably will lead the 24 states contributing to Christmas trains sponsored by the Christian Rural Overseas Program, Rev. H. J. Miller, CROPS promotion director, said today.

He said preliminary reports indicate Iowa will exceed its quota of 300 carloads of grain. Miller said Percy Klingensmith of Kimball, Neb., is believed to have made the largest single gift of grain—271 bushels of wheat.

The Christmas train campaign originally was scheduled to close tomorrow, but Miller said contributions will be accepted up to the time individual trains are assembled.

Postal Rate Increases Planned

Second Class Mail To Be Affected

WASHINGTON, — (INS) — Postmaster General Donaldson said yesterday that postal rates on second class and other low-revenue producing mail will have to be increased to meet an all-time high postal deficit.

He made this announcement after a conference with President Truman at the White House on the postal budget.

Donaldson said the post office department is now at work on a plan for raising rates on second, third, and fourth class said, it will be submitted to President Truman. If approved by the chief executive it will go to congress for enactment.

The postmaster general declared that it was not his intention h to wipe out entirely the second class mail subsidy for magazines and newspapers.

Some increases in rates, however, "will have to come" he declared.

He expressed the view that magazines would have to bear proportionally higher rates than perhaps other beneficiaries of the second class mail subsidy, particularly the smaller newsapers.

Donaldson said that, as far as the large metropolitan and dailies are concerned "there is in most cases not very much of a subsidy," since little of their circulation passes through the mail.

He said the postal deficit would reach an all time high estimates at 550 million dollars in the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30. This contrasts, he added, with a deficit of 310 million dollars in the last fiscal year.

Broken down in part, he declared, the deficit this year will be 207 million on second class mail, 129 million on third class and 85 million on parcel post. Third class covers advertising and circular mail.

Enlisted Men To Be Permitted Membership In Courts Martial

WASHINGTON, — (INS) — Army secretary Royall announced yesterday that in the future enlisted men may be members of general and special courts martial, formerly limited to officers.

Royall's announcement was included in the disclosure that a new manual of courts mortial will be published early next year and will go into effect Feb 1.

Chief among the changes was the provision allowing enlisted men to sit on court martial boards when requested by soldiers being tried.

Limitation of boards to officers was one of the chief objections to military justice raised before the Doolittle board and in congressional inquiries into court martial procedure.

Dear Santa Claus:

Christmas Male Is What She Wants

DAYTON, — (UP) — Mrs. Beatrice Hoodge Demolet, 35, would like to find a man-size gift under her Christmas tree this year. In fact, that is just what she wants—a man.

Mrs. Demolet, a blue-eyed blond with "a figure just as good as any of the models you see and read about," wants a nice man, about 35 years of age, to take care of her and her two sons.

"He must have at least $3,000 to $5,000 in the bank so we can buy a home and extra pieces of furniture and he must have a good, steady, dependable job,' she said today as she talked with newsmen in her neat apartment here.

"I am pretty lonesome," she continued, "and want a man around here whom I could love and wait on, something that I always like to do.

"I want to find a husband with whom I can be happy and one who has a big heart and a good character."

The pretty divorcee has other qualifications besides her curves, blue eyes and long blond hair.

"I am a very good housekeeper and like to work," she said. "I am also an excellent cook, but I love to bake best of all.

Mrs. Demolet's two previous experiences with married life were not happy ones. She married when she was 19, she said, to a traveling salesman. That marriage ended in divorce. Her second marriage, to a Dayton man, also ended in divorce—the day before Christmas last year, she said.

James, 17, her son by her first husband, is now attending high school here. The second son, Dennis, is two.

Mrs. Demolet said she got the idea of making public her search for a third husband when she read in the newspapers that other women had advertised for husbands and had at least gotten some offers.

"Maybe the third time is the charm," she smiled. "Maybe he will even be charming."

Mrs. Demolet did not advertise for a husband in any of the daily newspapers here, but did try to put an advertisement in a Cleveland paper. She said she bypassed the local papers because "after any publicity like this, I couldn't live on in Dayton."

The lonesome mother admitted she has one drawback.

"I'm a little hard of hearing," she said. "But I read lips beautifully, and next month I'm going to get one of those hearing aids you can't see."

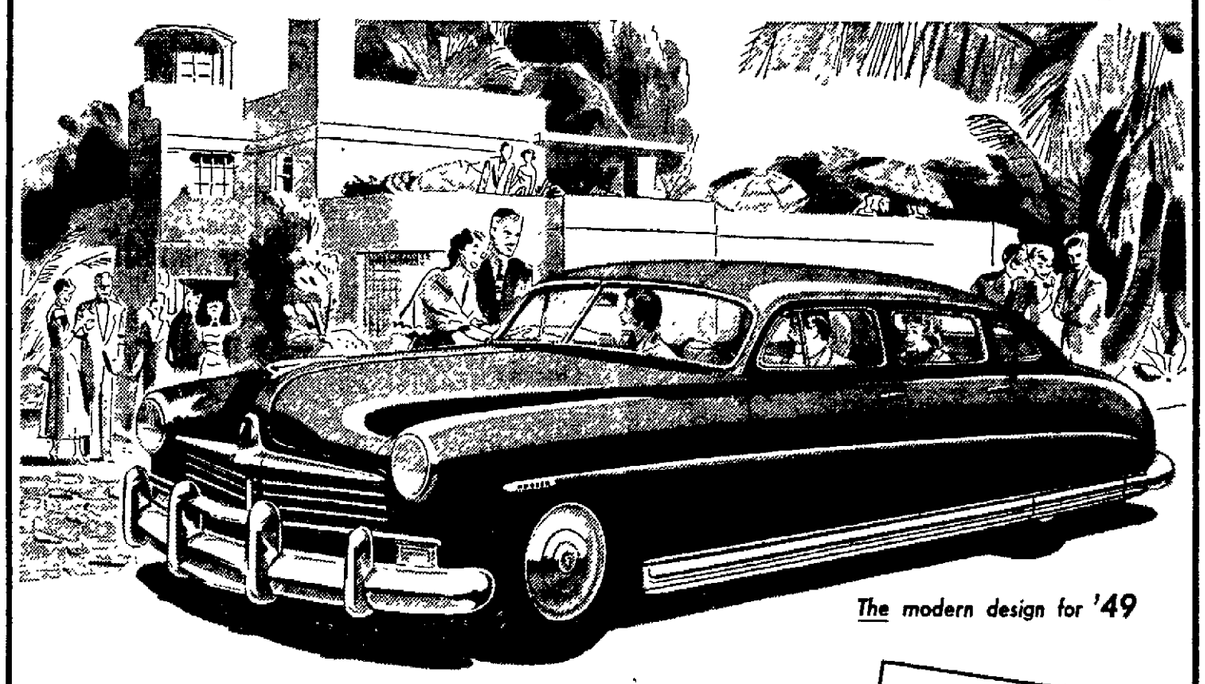
Why Hudson Beauty is more than "skin-deep"



The modern design for '49

The New Hudson—the first and only car you step down into—achieves true streamlining and today's lowest silhouette as the natural result of a basically new design principle available in no other type of automobile!

Every time your eyes linger on a New Hudson, you are admiring beauty as genuine as nature at her glorious best!

For this stunning streamliner has fresh styling that begins deep inside the car with a recessed floor which is the key to the "step-down" design—the exciting idea that opens up new opportunities for genuinely beautiful lines!

Yes, for years it has been widely known that the lower a car can be built, the more beautiful it will be, the better it will ride and handle.

But whenever men have sought to create the ideal in low-built motor cars, without lowering the interior floor, they've had to keep top lines high to preserve inside head room, or reduce inside roominess to get top lines down—an unsatisfactory compromise in either case.

And even with compromises, no car has ever matched the glamorously low silhouette Hudson brings you today!

This is because Hudson—and Hudson alone—has a recessed floor in an exclusive, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* which makes it possible to build the lowest car on the highway—just five feet from ground to top—but with more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

The exciting, more than skin-deep beauty of the New Hudson is the natural result of this basic "step-down" construction, which is so right it frees the designer of the need for makeshifts in styling.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson. You'll quickly sense that this car is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

Disclosure That Seven-Card Stud Is Jones' Game Shocks Columnist

THE CHARGE that Jesse Jones backed a little straight against two pairs of fours in a $4,000 pot at the 29 Club is neither here nor there. He says no such situation arose and, moreover, that he has a cheap opinion of straights in the style of poker which was discoursed that night at 29.

"What kind of poker was that?"

"Seven-card stud," he said, and I think I caught a soprano squeak in his voice. The rough and ready frontiersman of the great Southwest, the last rich man in the United States, with the courage to hold that the services we tip are due us in the bill for the room, the meal or shave, Jesse Jones and his friends of the fabulous marts of international trade play poker with a lisp.

For the understanding of those who came in late, I might explain hastily that Jim Moffett, a relic of the first New Deal, always, jumbled up in political chores, oil promotions and terrible personal sorrows, brought suit against a big, pot-bellied oil company for $8,000,000 for some services that he says he did for someone. He wanted Jesse for a witness and Jesse asked the judge to let him off because his heart was cutting up.

To this, after inquiry, Mr. Moffett replied that a man who could play poker and drink whisky until two a. m., and lose a $4,000 pot to all the fours that the law allows with a measly straight, was not as puny as he thought he was.

I remember the hurt when I first learned that Buffalo Bill used a scatter-gun to pop glass balls in midair as he jogged around the circus arena when we all thought he was shooting a rifle.

I felt the same qualm when Jesse Jones said they were playing seven card stud.

"You mean Seven-Toed Pete?" I said. "With the one-eyed jacks and the black treys wild?'

"No," Mr. Jones said, "nothing wild. Just seven cards. We don't call it Seven-Toed Pete. It's a good game because it gives you five draws instead of three."

Mr. Jones said he had seen a few pots as high as $500 but that most of them were a few hundred. This would have been notion-counter poker at a place where the standard starting investment had been $2,500 for years. It seems mighty funny that they would suddenly come down to penny ante where $10,000 pots came often in the past.

Mr. Jones seemed to feel no shame, no debasement as he sat there and, with neither bravado nor the guilt droop of a fellow caught in flagrancy, flatly discussed this game or Seven-Toed Pete.

The decline of poker has been silent as the sneaking backwaters of a flood.

Poker is dead, but, like George Washington, will live forever in the hearts of his countrymen.

Seven-Toed Pete at 29!

I am phoning the Jones boys, Jesse and Pete, and some others for a night of parchesi and a taffy-pull.

Youth Sent To BIS In Burglaries

Second Boy Put On Probation

A wave of petty crimes by two 16-year-old boys was broken yesterday afternoon in juvenile court when Judge Stuart H. Cramer sentenced one youth to the Lancaster Boys' Industrial school and placed the other on probation for a year.

George Bontowski, 360 Voegele avenue, was sentenced for an indeterminate period at Lancaster for breaking and entering.

He has a delinquency record dating back to 1943 and was under suspended sentence to the industrial school. He was arrested with his companion early Sunday morning, after officers watched the pair attempt to break into the Hart Dairy store on Springmill street.

Prior to the attempt on the dairy store the boys broke into the John Hall Distributing company, according to their sworn statements. They were captured by police as they attempted to flee. One shot was fired by police before they were halted.

The boys admitted burglarizing a number of business places in the Springmill street neighborhood during the past two weeks.

WARNED OF FUTURE

As he sentenced the boy to the industrial school, Judge Cramer told the youth the time had come when he must make a decision whether he would spend his life as a criminal or attempt to become a law-abiding citizen.

In another case, a 15-year-old youth who had stolen a car from W. E. Baldwin jr., Mansfield, R. D. 2, Monday afternoon, was ordered returned to the Lancaster Industrial school, from which he had been paroled.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Cramer said he would recommend to the industrial school that a complete psychiatric study be made of the youth. The boy has been in court repeatedly since 1943, when he began stealing bicycles. He had been sentenced twice to Lancaster.

Judge Cramer also heard two traffic cases involving juveniles. Francis Walmsley, 17, of 124 Ford street, lost his right to drive for 60 days for failure to yield the right-of-way. Gordon Blair Henry, 17, of 655 Scholl road, lost his right to drive for 30 days for unsafe operation.

HARBINGERS OF CHRISTMAS—When Christmas trees start filling up the city's vacant lots you can be sure the holiday season is fast approaching. These trees will soon be objects of glamor, winning the awe of children and adults alike. Getting ready for the annual trade in evergreens, these men unload a truckload for the market. Left to right, the workmen are Robert Wade, Lee Butterbaugh and Don Croft.

Nomination Call Issued

Soil Supervisors To Be Elected

Nominating petitions for five soil conservation district supervisors must be in the county agricultural extension office by Saturday, County Agent C. N. McGrew warned today.

Petitions may be obtained at his office, he said, but they must be returned with the required 25 signatures before the Saturday deadline to make the candidates eligible for the election Dec. 18.

Petitioners and voters must be landowners, McGrew said. Balloting will be at five points scattered through the county.

Voters may cast their ballots at the following locations: Shenandoah Grange Hall, Shelby township building, Lucas high school, Bellville fire station, and the agricultural extension office in the courthouse.

Petitions are now in circulation for the following 12 men from these townships:

Embedded Bullet Found In House

Sheriff's deputies answered a call yesterday to Burger avenue on a report that someone was shooting a .22-caliber rifle in that neighborhood. They found no suspects.

They found that a bullet was embedded in the siding on the north side of the house of J. D. Kennedy. The bullet was in the wood about six feet from the ground.

Bid Under Estimate

Presenting a bid that was more than $106,000 under the state's estimate, A. J. Baltes, Inc., of Norwalk today was the only bidder on construction work of the Newville-Perrysville section of State Route 95.

Baltes bid $259,609 for grading, building drainage structures and paving 3.162 miles of the new section in Monroe township, Richland county, and Green township, Ashland county. That was far under the state's estimate of $366,000 for the work. There was no word as to when the contract would be let.

The new section will be one-half miles north of the present road, which is a temporary route in existence since 1936 when a township road was incorporated as State Route 95.

The new section of State Route 13 around the Mansfield airport also is being built by Baltes. Work started several weeks ago.

Bids accepted today by the state highway department in Columbus included those on two million-dollar projects in Huron and Montgomery counties, making it the largest lot of job offerings this year and one of the largest in department history.

These included bids on building a steel girder bridge over the Miami river at Dayton, and construction of more than six miles of concrete road of State Route 18 in Huron county. The estimates ran over a $1,000,000 each.

Evergreens Bring Christmas to City

By DOUG CHEVALIER

That traditional symbol of Yuletide, the Christmas tree, is beginning to make its appearance on Mansfield lots.

Some of the trees on the market here are home grown. Others have been shipped from the big forests of the north.

One of the principal suppliers of the distant trees is the Mansfield Transfer and Storage company. An official of the company said two box cars loaded with evergreens arrived yesterday from Vancouver, British Columbia.

The cars contained 32 tons of the festive greenery. Most of the trees are long needle pines.

The trees are going to retailers in Mansfield, Wooster, Shelby, Millersburg, Loudonville, and Galion, the official said.

Principal suppliers of the locally grown trees are John Hattery of near Adario and the Wade and Gatton nurseries at Bellville.

Hattery said yesterday he expects to cut and market 3,000 Christmas trees this season. He has cut a few already, but the peak of his operations will not come until the middle of December. Most of his work so far has consisted of cutting boughs for wreaths and other decorations, he said.

115 ACRES OF TREES

The Hattery farm has 115 acres planted in Christmas trees. Hattery said he would cut 12 acres of them this season. Most of them are red pine, Scotch pine, and Norway spruce. They will be sold in Mansfield and Ashland.

The Wade and Gatton nurseries serve both the wholesale and retail trade. C. A. Wade, a partner in the firm, said as many as 20,000 trees may be cut from the 75 acres planted to evergreens. For more than two weeks the company has been cutting Christmas trees for the Cleveland and Toledo markets.

Wade said he expects to market 5,000 trees on five lots in Mansfield. Other Wade and Gatton lots are located in Shelby, Galion, Lexington, Crestline, Mt. Vernon, and Ashland.

Most of the nursery's trees are long-needle pines, although 2,500 balsams, and 1,000 spruce are expected to be cut.

Prices of Christmas trees are likely to be up 10 to 15 per cent over last year, Wade said. He pointed out, however, that because of the seasonal nature of the business, extreme price fluctuations are almost inevitable. Cutting operations will go on through Dec. 24, he said.

Some trees are shipped into Mansfield from Michigan and southern Ohio.

Payment Of $4,392 Approved

Original Bill Was $27,000

The appropriation of $4,392 to pay seven claims against the city for damages caused by water main breaks in 1945 was approved last night by city council.

The claims represent out-of-court settlements with the seven claimants who originally asked for a total of more than $27,000.

The following claims were authorized paid:

Angelas Koperonis, $150; S. S. Kresge company, $250; Margaret Bowers and M. D. Ward jr., $300; Dale Ward, $1,000; Vaughn Bates, $1,000; James Dickson and Lillian R. Dickson, $250, and Scattergood and Son, Inc., $1,250.

The $4,392 also included $96.45 in court costs and $996 in fees to John C. O'Donnell and James V. Will.

Council also approved measures:

Declaring its intention to appropriate 33 foot wide right of way on the property of Bert M. Owens and Oofty Q. Owens to operate and inspect a water line of the Clear Fork water works project.

WILL SEEK BIDS

Authorizing the service-safety director to advertise for bids on three carloads of cast iron pipe. Council appropriated $24,000 for this purpose.

$500 transfer in the sanitary sewer department was authorized along with $555 transfer in the water department.

The latter bill was made necessary when City Auditor Paul L. Kelley refused to pay the money owed to the Charles Hoffman Plumbing company because it was over $500 and the auditor insisted the payment had to be authorized by council.

The bill was incurred last winter when water pipes in the city became frozen and the Hoffman firm was called in to thaw them out. The city does not have its own equipment to perform such work.

An ordinance to provide for improving the center plots on Glenwood anad Parkwood boulevards and Brinkerhoff avenues by mowing and cleaning was approved. This is a renewal of a law that has been in effect for 30 years.

Council also heard a petition for the erection of a traffic light on East Second and Hedges street. The petitioners claimed it was one of the most dangerous intersections in town and has a high accident rate.

A penalty of $1 is charged for licenses purchased after Jan. 20. However, that does not apply, on dogs obtained after that date or for puppies becoming three months old after that time

Only puppies which are three months or older require the tags.

Shires Indicted In Dallas

DALLAS, Tex. — (UP) — The turbulent baseball and boxing career of Art (The Great) Shires was climaxed today by a murder charge.

Shires, 42, colorful, swashbuckling big league ball player of the early thirties, faced a charge of "murder with malice" in the death of W. H. (Hi) Irwin, 56, former Texas league catcher and umpire.

The charge against Shires was a preliminary one filed on the basis of statements by seven witnesses to a fight between Shires and Edwin last Oct. 3. Shires was free on $5,000 bond pending a formal reading of the charge today, when it was believed new bond would be set.

TO BE HELD

Authorities indicated Shires would be held for a grand jury.

Shires, whose major league tour of duty included service with the Chicago White Sox, the Washington Senators, the St. Louis Cardinals and the Boston Braves, allegedly beat and kicked Erwin in a brawl in the latter's cleaning establishment.

Erwin died last Saturday night and was buried yesterday, but no death certificate had been signed. Dr. P. A. Rogers said Erwin came to him for medical attention after the Oct. 3 fight. He said pneumonia "developing out of injuries" contributed to Erwin's death.

But he said he refused to sign a death certificate because he could not determine the specific cause of death.

Shires, who runs a shrimp house here, told police he had known Erwin for 25 years. He said he went to Erwin's place of business to give him a steak, and that an argument developed. What it was about Shires did not say.

"He hit me across the face with a telephone receiver and I knocked him down without thinking," said Shires. "I had to rough him up a good deal because he grabbed a knife and started whittling on my legs."

Shires had a colorful baseball career, but his antics both on and off the field got him into trouble more than once. As a rookie he nicknamed himself "The Great" and showed considerable promise.

Shires dropped out of the majors and turned up at first base for the Columbus Redbirds of the American association in 1933. He managed the Harrisburg, Pa., team in 1936.

Alumni Five Leads 9-3 At Half Time

By CHARLEY STINE

In a weird exhibition of how not to shoot a basketball, Senior high's varsity basketball team lost to the Alumni, by a 26-22 score, last night in the high school gym.

The first three-quarters of the game bordered on the ridiculous as the score stood 14-6 in the Alumni's favor at the opening of the fourth period.

The game was not as bad as the score would indicate. The Tygers were impressive with their fast breaks as they made their first appearance in front of home fans. Passing, too, was fairly crisp, but, with the exception of big Norbert Shibinski, no one knew where the basket was. Altogether, the team connected on nine out of 54 shots for a 16.6 percentage. They had made 40 per cent last week at Elyria.

Neither team scored from the field in the first period. Shibinski dropped in a free throw and Nick Gagich tied it up with another.

After one minute of the second quarter was gone, Mansfield took its only lead when Shibinski scored the entire second period total on a rebound shot. Gagich tied it up, added another, and then Don Hardy and Dick Flockenzier brought the score to 9-3 as the half ended.

The Tygers improved in the third period as they scored three points—another rebound shot by Shibinski and a free throw by Willie Fowler. Gagich, who had 14 for the Alumni, slipped in five points for his team's only scores.

The fourth period was the entire game, as defenses loosened and the law of averages which had refused to exist earlier in the game, turned in favor of the shooters.

The Alumni stalled through to the end but the Tygers were coming fast. Their only two really good shots were a pair of long two-handers dropped in by Paul "Pinkie" Ferguson in the last minute of play. These made Ferguson the runnerup scorer of the night.

A parents' banquet in the school cafeteria before the game undoubtedly had something to do with the off-form performance. A half-hour clinic by Converse basketball representative Chuck Taylor followed, before the start of the game.

Joe Maxim Joins Louis' Waiting Line

Decisions Jim Bivins At Cleveland

By LARRY SMITH

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Joe Maxim today joined the assorted flock of heavyweight title aspirants waiting in the reception room to do business with Joe Louis.

And business being what it is in the heavyweight division, Maxim probably has as good a product as any to sell.

The arena crowd of 11,164 didn't see anything spectacular, but the fancy-boxing Clevelander did turn in a workman-like performance last night in outpointing Jimmy Bivins in a 10-rounder. Maxim weighed 182½, Bivins 178.

COMEBACK STOPPED

Bivins, a top ranger during the war years, was in the midst of a comeback campaign that included an impressive performance against Louis in an exhibition a few weeks ago.

Louis had labeled Bivins the toughest opponent he had met on his exhibition tour up to that time, but the Cleveland Negro was no puzzle to Maxim last night.

Maxim kept his fellow townsman off balance most of the fight with his sharp jabbing and hooking. Every time Bivins started a rally he found Maxim's left in his face.

The fight wasn't a dock-walloping affair and frequent clinches kept Referee Jackie Davis busy.

Bivins and Maxim each lost a round because of low blows. Maxim had the third taken away from him while Bivins forfeited the fifth.

Referee Davis and the two judges couldn't see eye-to-eye on the outcome. Davis called Bivins the winner by a 6-to-4 count, while judges Charlie Bill and Herb Williams voted Maxim five rounds, Bivins four and one even.

The win put Maxim in line for a probable bout with Jersey Joe Walcott here Jan. 13. Matchmaker Larry Atkins says he has offered Walcott $20,000 to fight Maxim and is certain of an acceptance.

In another scheduled 10-rounder, Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler disposed of Lightweight Eddie Giosa of Philadelphia at 1:34 of the second heat.

Saddler, whose title was not at stake, weighed 129 to Giosa's 138.

The Christmas fund show sponsored by the Cleveland News drew a gate of $65,062.
